RESOLUTION

Designating October 20, 2023, as “National Early Childhood Literacy Awareness Day”.

Whereas many children from families with low incomes begin school already far behind children from families with higher incomes;

Whereas research shows that children from families with low incomes are less likely to have interactions that are critical for language development, including—

- (1) being read to or spoken to regularly;
- (2) having access to books;
- (3) having a literacy-rich environment; and
- (4) accessing high-quality early childhood education programs;

Whereas language development is an important precursor to literacy;

Whereas access to high-quality early childhood education programs can support early childhood language development and literacy;

Whereas, as early as 3 years of age, the vocabulary of a child can predict the future third-grade reading proficiency of the child;

Whereas, during the first 3 years of life, children from families with low-incomes can hear as many as 30,000,000 fewer words than children from more affluent families;

Whereas, in 2022, the National Assessment of Educational Progress (referred to in this preamble as “NAEP”) reported that—

(1) 66 percent of fourth-grade public school students nationally performed below the NAEP proficient level in reading; and

(2) 37 percent of fourth-grade public school students nationally performed below the NAEP basic level in reading; and

Whereas awareness of early childhood literacy issues must be heightened to encourage greater support to help children achieve reading proficiency: Now, therefore, be it

1       Resolved, That the Senate—

2               (1) designates October 20, 2023, as “National
3       Early Childhood Literacy Awareness Day”;

4               (2) encourages States, localities, schools, early
5       childhood education programs, and nonprofit organi-
6       zations to observe the day with appropriate pro-

1       grams and activities, with the goal of increasing
2       public awareness about early childhood literacy
3       issues;

4           (3) recognizes the need to make early childhood
5       literacy a public priority;

6           (4) supports the efforts of businesses, State and
7       local governments, early childhood education pro-
8       grams, nonprofit organizations, educators, and vol-
9       unteers dedicated to increasing childhood literacy
10      rates;

11          (5) applauds the initiatives of businesses, State
12      and local governments, early childhood education
13      programs, nonprofit organizations, educators, and 14      volunteers that—

15           (A) use time and resources to address
16      early childhood literacy issues, the causes of 17      poor reading scores, and potential solutions to 18      those issues; and

19           (B) work to promote the love of reading
20      among children; and

21          (6) encourages parents, other family members,
22      and caregivers to introduce children to the world of
23      books and other literacy activities in different ways,
24      including by—

25           (A) reading to children;

- 1 (B) telling stories;
- 2 (C) teaching letters and words; and
- 3 (D) visiting libraries.
